THE APPROACHING GENERAL ELECTION.

MENTAL AND MORAL CONDITION. PREDISPOSING AND EXCITING CAUSES. THE GAME OF POLITICS. A HIDDEN DANGER!

"ELECTION FEVER."—This suggested addition to the nosological table may seem fanciful, but it is the simple expression of a fact. The brain is not merely the organ of mind, but the centre and focus of the nervous system. When the mind—that is, the brain—is inordinately excited, the nervous centres generally are thrown into a state of super-excitation, and the whole organism is in disorder. A General Election, like other popular turmoils, leaves its wrecks to drift to asylums. Besides these distinctly mad cases, however, there are body wrecks, and it is neither far-fetched nor a chimerical idea that there may be such a malady as 'election.' It would be well for those who are now suffering from disturbances caused by the excitement of the approaching General Election to bear this in mind, and to take measures with a view to cooling down as rapidly as possible. The politician becoming distraught or falling into a state of fever; with all his apparent engrossment and energy, he is at heart cool and safe. It is the gambling adventurer in politics or the local party zealot who is most likely to suffer. To such we say, look to the health of mind and body, and take prompt and effectual measures to secure relief from strain, worry, and distress, or exhaustion of any kind."—Lancet.

game of politics, as played by professional or quasi-professional partisans, is exciting, but there is not probably any very great danger of the professional politician becoming distraught or falling into a state of fever; with all his apparent engrossment and energy, he is at heart cool and safe. It is the gambling adventurer in politics or the local party zealot who is most likely to suffer. To such we say, look to the health of mind and body, and take prompt and effectual measures to secure relief from strain, worry, and distress, or exhaustion of any kind."—Lancet.

EXCITEMENT, SUDDEN EMERGENCY, FEVERISH COLD, with high temperature and quick pulse, use ENO'S FRUIT SALT, an imperative hygienic need. It keeps the blood pure, prevents fevers and acute inflammatory diseases, removes the injurious effects of stimulants, excitement, narcotics, such as alcohol, tobacco, tea, coffee, by natural means; thus restores the nervous system to its normal condition, by preventing the great danger of poisoned blood and over-cerebral activity, sleeplessness, irritability, worry, &c.

THE BEST ANTIDOTE FOR EXCITEMENT, WANT OF SLEEP, &c., is ENO'S FRUIT SALT every few hours.

STIMULANTS and insufficient amount of exercise frequently derange the liver. ENO'S FRUIT SALT is peculiarly adapted for any constitutional weakness of the liver. A world of woes is avoided by those who keep and use ENO'S FRUIT SALT. "All our customers for ENO'S FRUIT SALT would not be without it upon any consideration, they having received so much benefit from it."—WOOD BAZZANES, Chemists, Jersey, 1878.

"MANY SICK PEOPLE looked upon me as a physician. For a long time we had been in the centre of Africa without any medical man. Natives came with all manner of diseases. One day we had a man that was said to be mad. In some of his fits he had wounded a neighbour with an arrow. Whether he was mad or not, he was evidently far from well, and I gave him a large dose of ENO'S FRUIT SALT. The poor fellow came back next morning to tell us that he was better. His brain was no longer offensive, and he looked cheerful. We were sorry when our supply of FRUIT SALT was done: it was a favourite both with natives and Europeans, and is much used along the malarious coasts."—Afriensia, by the Rev. DUFF MACDONALD, M.A., B.D., vol. II., p. 207.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.—A new invention is brought before the Public, and commands success. A score of abominable imitations are immediately introduced by the unscrupulous, who, in copying the original closely enough to deceive the Public, and yet not so exactly as to infringe upon legal rights, exercise an ingenuity that, employed in an original channel, could not fail to secure reputation and profit."—ADAMS.

CAUTION.—Examine each Bottle, and see that the Capsule is marked "ENO'S FRUIT SALT." Without it, you have been imposed on by a worthless imitation. Sold by all Chemists. Directions in Sixteen Languages, How to Prevent Disease. Protection in every Country.
